GOKCHWA Labor Day Show, Monday, September 1st, 2008.

This past Monday, Don and Marcia Jellison and their daughter and I journeyed to Moore, OK to check out the Oklahoma City Hot Wheel show. Even though it sounds cliché, it was totally awesome! I've never seen so many original redline blister packs and Real Riders since our last show at the armory on the fairgrounds. Lots of new stuff as well, and very reasonably priced. I talked with Aaron Mills, their president, and he sounds like his group and others would be interested in setting up in Tulsa at one of our shows! Check out the pics!
